

International Tax Morocco Highlights 2019

Updated March 2019

Investment basics:

Currency – Moroccan Dirham (MAD)

Foreign exchange control – Transactions in foreign currency generally are not restricted, but there are some administrative formalities. Certain transactions, including the payment of management fees, are controlled by the exchange authorities. The export of MAD is prohibited.

Accounting principles/financial statements – Moroccan GAAP. Financial statements must be filed annually.

Principal business entities – These are the limited liability company, private limited company, general or limited partnership and branch of a foreign company.

Corporate taxation:

Residence – A company is resident in Morocco if it is incorporated in Morocco or if its place of effective management is in Morocco.

Basis – Morocco operates a territorial tax system. Companies (both resident and nonresident) generally are subject to corporate tax only on income generated from activities carried on in Morocco. Foreign corporations are subject to taxation on income arising in Morocco if they have, or are deemed to have, a permanent establishment in Morocco.

Taxable income – Companies are taxed on the difference between their trading income and expenditure. Business expenses incurred in the operation of the business generally are deductible, unless specifically excluded. Expenses not allowed include interest on shareholder loans where the stock is not fully paid up, interest on shareholder loans in excess of the official annual interest rate and penalties and fines.

Taxation of dividends – Dividends received by corporate shareholders from taxable Moroccan-resident entities must be included in business profits, but the dividends are 100% deductible in calculating taxable income unless derived from real estate collective investment vehicles (OPCIs). In such a case, the deduction is reduced to 60%.

Capital gains – Capital gains are treated as noncurrent income and taxed at the normal corporate tax rate.

Losses – Tax losses may be carried forward for four years from the end of the loss-making accounting period. However, the portion of a loss that relates to depreciation may be carried forward indefinitely. Losses may not be carried back.

Rate – The corporate income tax rates are progressive from 10% to 31% (on income over MAD 1 million). A 37% rate applies to leasing companies and credit institutions. A foreign contractor carrying out engineering, construction or assembly projects, or projects relating to industrial or technical installations, may opt to be taxed at 8% of the total contract price, net of VAT.

Surtax – A 2.5% social solidarity contribution tax applies on corporate income above MAD 40 million. The surtax is applicable for 2019 and 2020.

Alternative minimum tax – There is no AMT, but the tax payable by a company must be at a rate of at least 0.75%, regardless of the amount of the taxable base, calculated on turnover, financial and noncurrent income.

Foreign tax credit – Foreign tax credits are available if so provided in an applicable tax treaty and/or local legislation.

Participation exemption – See “Taxation of dividends” above.

Holding company regime – No

Incentives – A variety of incentives are offered to encourage Moroccan and foreign investors. Incentives include an exemption from business tax for the first five years of operations for newly incorporated companies, and a corporate income tax exemption for companies exporting goods and services or operating tourist establishments (subject to certain conditions) for the first five years of operations, followed by a reduced rate of 17.5% on export sales.

Tax incentives that are available to export enterprises (i.e. a five-year corporate tax exemption, followed by a reduced rate of 17.5%) also apply to sales of manufactured goods to other export enterprises, as well as to enterprises located in export free zones.

There are several export and industrial free zones in the main cities (Tangier, Kenitra, Rabat, Nador, Fes, Layoune) that are open for various activities. Authorized companies located in the export and industrial free zones benefit from a business tax exemption for the first 15 years, together with an exemption from corporate income tax for the first five years of operations, followed by a reduced rate of 8.75% for the following 20 years.

An offshore financial center in Tangier is open to all international banks and financial institutions that have obtained prior authorization from the ministry of finance.

Companies with the status of “Casablanca Finance City” are entitled to a corporate tax exemption on sales turnover generated in foreign currency and on capital gains arising from the transfer of foreign securities for five years from the start of the tax year in which the company obtained this status. After the expiration of this period, an 8.75% corporate tax rate applies.

Tax-neutral treatment may be available for corporate income tax purposes for a transfer of investment goods among member companies of a restructuring group.

A five-year tax holiday is granted to qualified industrial companies starting from the day business operations commence.

Companies that register their shares for listing on the stock exchange (except for credit institutions, insurance and reinsurance companies, public-service concession companies and public companies) are entitled to a 25% reduction in the corporate tax rate for three consecutive years following the date of registration if the company enters the stock exchange by selling existing shares. A 50% reduction will apply if the company enters the stock exchange by increasing its capital by at least 20%, accompanied by a waiver of preferential subscription rights.

Companies that qualify as OPCIs are exempt from tax on rental income derived from buildings constructed for professional use, as well as dividends and interest received.

Favorable tax treatment is available for certain mergers and divisions.

Withholding tax:

Dividends – Dividends paid to a nonresident are subject to a 15% withholding tax, unless the rate is reduced under an applicable tax treaty.

Interest – Interest paid on a loan from a nonresident is subject to a 10% withholding tax, unless the rate is reduced under a tax treaty. A loan granted for 10 years or more is exempt from withholding tax.

Municipal tax is levied at a rate of 10.5% of the rental value of real estate assets situated within urban districts and 6.5% of the rental value of real estate assets in peripheral zones of urban districts.

Anti-avoidance rules:

Transfer pricing – There is no formal transfer pricing legislation in Morocco, but transactions between related parties must be on arm's length terms. Two methodologies are used by the tax authorities: the comparable uncontrolled price method and direct assessment based on available information.

Thin capitalization – There is no formal thin capitalization legislation, but the deduction of interest on shareholder current account loans is subject to some conditions and limitations. Interest is deductible if the shareholder's stock is fully paid up, the interest rate does not exceed the official annual rate and the debt-to-equity ratio does not exceed 1:1.

Controlled foreign companies – No

Disclosure requirements – A declaration regarding transactions involving dependent entities could be required by the tax authorities.
